We have been using GodSpace for a number of years here in Cairns. I like the part where you can choose the activity you like the best and go with it. The variety is great so we all have a few choices. I also like it because it has all levels in the one book. If you go from one level for the first session then to another level in the second session it is the same book and sometimes even the same page. So, well done to all your people who put it together.

Thank you for your wonderful resource. All my teachers were more than happy to use it last year (and for many years previously) and we are choosing to use it again this year.

I just love the approach of the GodSpace material! I had great feedback from both class teachers and I'm sure it's because GodSpace opens up so much more opportunity to interact with the children in a fun and engaging way and allow them to express their own thoughts and opinions.

I just wanted to thank you for all the ministry you do for GodSpace. Your ideas, the tips you email, the updates of games etc. on your website, your enthusiasm in teaching the accreditation course....everything! It has made SRE teaching a joy for me and boosts my enthusiasm to keep teaching.

This material is amazing! We are so thrilled to be continuing GodSpace next year!
Our kids are growing so much!

Across the state many of our churches are using GodSpace. They find the curriculum recognises developmental stages and better accommodates lack of prior knowledge of the big story that is foundational to the values that make our society strong.

Every week, I teach 450 children from kindergarten through to year 6 and I have found GodSpace is comprehensive, challenging and the children love it. The material is thoroughly prepared and really easy to follow and the lessons are clearly written by people with obvious experience in how children think, respond and relate.

GodSpace shapes my program for RE lessons for Prep - grade 4. It also shapes my Chapel program.

The kids love it. The activities are pitched at the right level to maintain interest and enthusiasm, and the teacher's manual has plenty of good ideas for me to teach them.

Some of my students that had been less engaged are now more interested in RE.

One boy, I can think of in particular who is on the Autism spectrum, really enjoys the puzzles and then every so often will contribute a remark indicating that he is learning about what the lesson is on whilst he is engrossed in the book activities. I have had no troubles with behaviour management since using the material.

I first used GodSpace with Prep-2 last year, but decided to use it with lessons up to grade 4 this year and it is working really well.

Good work!!

GodSpace is becoming very popular with all the teachers using it. It has the same theme for all weekly lessons across the grades and really engaging activities for the children. The strength of the GodSpace program is its focus on the New Testament and the way it draws the NT to children's everyday lives. From a Catholic perspective I feel it is the curriculum most closely aligned to what is being taught in our Catholic school curriculum. I was APRE for last 8 years here in Toowoomba and REC in Lismore diocese so feel it is the best fit for our needs.

We use GodSpace material at Rouse Hill Anglican College in our Stage One and Two Christian Education classes. We have found the material to be what it claims to be - Bible based, relational, relevant and engaging. The teacher's manuals are clear and easy to use and give the teachers a number of options for the lesson. The students really enjoy doing the work in their magazines. We would warmly recommend the use of this material.

Packed full of practical lessons teaching a personal relationship with Jesus which will inspire both new and experienced teachers. Two things I particularly appreciate in GodSpace are the multi-level age-appropriate lesson plans where you are sure to find an idea which will bring the lesson alive to your class, and the wealth of extra material in the resource CD-ROM, especially the Power Points that are really good for all ages.

I love it that the team is available to Scripture teachers when they need help.

I just wanted to say a huge thank you for an amazing product that is current and full of great lessons and engaging and groovy songs. It has made our Kids church in our small church easy and so enjoyable. I look forward to hearing new songs and teaching it to the kids who have then taken them into our church service and shown the congregation what they learn.

Thank you GodSpace for your comprehensive lesson plans designed to stimulate and enrich our SRE kids and support their teachers.

The basic lesson format of reading Bible passages, praying and singing allows kids (who might not otherwise do so) personally relate to God and Jesus. Most especially I value the variety of materials, formats, media, tools and tips that Godspace lessons provide to allow me to customise my lessons to my classes' needs. Also I appreciate the thoughts provided on the relevance of each lesson to our kids' lives today.

Thank you for your dedication to what you do. It is great to be aware of your care and support.

GodSpace is a fantastic bible based resource that is so well written and easily adapted to any size group. We have used it in small groups and have also used the Combined/large group layout for times where we are short on leaders. The resources provide a strong support for even the novice of leaders on the team.

The ideas and activities are varied and engaging for a wide spectrum of different learning types which ultimately make the lessons more enjoyable for the children.

When parents request Christian Religious Education (CRE) in an ACT government school, programs evolve through a negotiation process between schools, churches and volunteers, resulting in each program being unique to each school. How wonderful it is to have GodSpace available in this process! GodSpace is fantastic because it provides so many options for ages, activities and engagement, all of which can be adapted to suit unique program situations. GodSpace presents traditional Biblical truths in modern and professional ways, resulting in its widespread application and positive reception across many CRE programs in the ACT. It is a pleasure to be able to place this resource into the hands of our volunteers! Thank you GodSpace!
